

Medical Cannabis Payment Solutions Launches New Website

LAS VEGAS – Medical Cannabis Payment Solutions (OTC Markets: REFG), a leader in technological solutions for the medical cannabis industry, today announced it has launched its new and improved corporate website, www.refg.co.

“There’s a cadence to our IT rollout,” said Jeremy Roberts, CEO of Medical Cannabis Payment Solutions. “Together our advisory board, we’ve laid out a strategy for the company and this is part of that plan.”

The new refg.co includes the following site enhancements:

- Improved Structure and Navigation. The site has been redesigned for an improved spacious layout, including an intuitive navigation with a more standardized menu structure.
- Mobile Device Optimization.
- Updated Content
- Corporate Rebranding.

“The new website means that customers can now benefit from richer online content that is easier to navigate and share with others,” said Tyler Young, CTO of Medical Cannabis Payment Solutions. “This is a result of talking with our market segment and gaining valuable feedback.”

About REFG, Inc.

Our mission is to provide end-to-end management, across multiple management systems, for medicinal marijuana operations. Many medicinal marijuana companies have experienced such rapid growth that they are finding it difficult to manage all aspects of their operation. In order to become a successful and compliant medicinal marijuana operation, effective management must depend on many different systems. REFG solves the fragmentation problem by identifying tools that are important to dispensaries, and customizing those tools specifically catered to the industry. We strive to create awareness within the medicinal marijuana industry and to develop an environmentally friendly, economically sustainable business while increasing shareholder value. For more information, please visit the company's website at: www.refg.co.
